MARRON'S MIDDLE!
Alderman Marron Mad Because He Saw the Elephants Alone.
After Receiving "Comps" He Objected to What He Saw.
And Friends Build a "Mound" out of a "Mole Hill."
His Political Scheme Exploded.
The city of Berkeley, Cal., was the scene of a political drama yesterday. Alderman Marron, who had been elected to the city council, was the center of attention. He had received a large number of complimentary letters from his constituents, and he was very pleased with the result. However, when he went to the city council meeting, he was met with a different reception. The council members were very hostile to him, and they refused to accept his resignation. Marron was very angry, and he threatened to sue the city for libel. The council members, however, were not intimidated, and they continued to refuse his resignation. CONVICTED OF BIGAMY.
The jury found that the defendant was guilty of bigamy. The defendant was a man named John Doe, who had been married to a woman named Jane Doe. He had then married another woman named Mary Doe, while Jane Doe was still alive. The jury found that this was a violation of the law, and they convicted him of bigamy. The judge sentenced him to a term of imprisonment. The defendant's lawyer argued that the marriage to Mary Doe was a common-law marriage, and that it was therefore legal. However, the judge ruled against him, and the conviction stands.
